Voice Vigil Revealed in Dolan Trial

For five hours nightly, he and his detective aid squatted in a Hotel Statler closet listening through the wall. Private Detective Daniel J. Haley testified today at the contempt of court trial of Edmund L. Dolan and three others.

On trial with Dolan as a result of alleged attempts at "jury-fixing" in another case, are J. Walter Quinlan, Robert E. Dinmore and Harold Simpson.

Resumption of the trial was delayed today until after the noon hour because Judge Frederick W. Fosdick was engaged with the Revere racketeers grand jury probe.

Haley, manager of a Boston detective agency employed by the district attorney's office to investigate the alleged jury-fixing, said he and his aide usually did their hotel listening from 7 p. m. until midnight.

The aide, he said, was Alfred Bligh, a witness last week, but although Haley had known Bligh for a year and a half he did not know that Bligh had been a boxer under the name "Spider Kelly," he said.

He had not read in the newspapers, Haley also said, under cross-examination, about Bligh's activities in connection with the O'Hara case.

Pressed by Attorney Timothy F. Callahan, counsel for Dolan as to Bligh's associations with O'Hara as a bodyguard, Haley's negative answers and the entire phase of cross-examination were interrupted by Judge Fosdick, who asked: "Is being a bodyguard for Walter O'Hara any disgrace?"

Haley admitted in his testimony that there was nothing in the remarks he heard made in the Statler suite 1400-1402 and which he overheard by which he could be sure there was a man named Dolan actually in the suite.

A Mother's Plea

Her plea to be allowed to go home to her two children was granted as Mrs. Margaret Hebert, 29, of Mount Henry road, Shirley, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Harry N. Guterman in the federal building today.

Mrs. Hebert, charged with having marijuana in her possession, was arrested last week along with Francis Cooney, a private attached to Port Devens.

Commissioner Guterman, after listening to the defendant and her counsel, agreed to release her on her own recognizance.

Cooney is now in East Cambridge Jail, unable to raise $5000 bail.

According to federal agents, Cooney is alleged to have brought 45 cans of marijuana when he was transferred to Port Devens in February. Some of the weed, federal agents said, was found in the Hebert home in Shirley.

War Crisis Eased As Armies Wait

BULLETIN

PRAGUE, May 23 (AP)—Konrad Henlein, leader of Czechoslovakia's autonomy-seeking Germanic minority, and Premier Milan Hodza met tonight in a preliminary effort to settle their dispute, which had brought Europe dangerously near the brink of war. France had left no doubt that she would fight any unprovoked aggression against Czechoslovakia.

LONDON, May 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Czechoslovakia's premier and the leader of her Nazified Germanic minority would meet tonight or tomorrow in an effort to settle the dispute which has brought Europe dangerously near the brink of war.

Smiling and affable, the prime minister acknowledged cheers which greeted his announcement that a conference had been arranged between Premier Milan Hodza and Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans over whom Adolf Hitler has declared himself protector.

AGREE TO PARLEY

Chamberlain, markedly recovered from his gout attack, gave the House a brief, carefully-worded resume of the situation.

He said Britain, France, Germany and Czechoslovakia, as well as Henlein, all had agreed to expedite peaceful negotiations calculated to end dangerous friction between the Czechs and Nazis on both sides of the German border.

SEES CRISIS EASED

"At the moment the situation seems to have eased somewhat," Chamberlain asserted.

Although he did not say so, it was presumed the British government had been instrumental in bringing the antagonists together after the Sudeten German party had refused to enter into

LONDON, May 23—A bold British-French-Czech plan to frighten Adolf Hitler today was believed to have succeeded in averting any immediate danger of a German invasion of Czechoslovakia that would have precipitated a general European war.

Quick action in Prague also paved the way for Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, with the approval of the British cabinet, to essay the role of peacemaker in Central Europe.

Ambassador Herbert von Dirksen, it was learned, told Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax that Germany had "no intention of using force" to settle the German minorities question in Czechoslovakia.

PRAGUE SENDS FLEA

How the three-power plan to curb Hitler was formulated and worked can be disclosed today.

When first reports of German troop movements reached Prague Thursday, an explanation was immediately sought from Berlin.

Assurances were received which were at first regarded as satisfactory. Prague, however, notified Paris and London of further developments, and the three nations decided to take advantage of the opportunity to make it unmistakably plain to Hitler that a German invasion would likely lead to a European war—in which Germany would find France, Britain and Russia lined up against her.

According to the Evening Standard's diplomatic correspondent, Poland also told Germany Saturday that if France and Britain went to the aid of Czechoslovakia in an invasion, Poland would have to join them.

BRITAIN USES RUSS

Czechoslovakia immediately began precautionary military defensive measures, and Britain and France commenced intense diplomatic activity in Berlin.

Summoning of the British cabinet for a rare Sunday meeting, and immediate preparations of the British embassy to send British women and children home from Berlin were part of the plan to impress Hitler that Britain as well as France would likely act if Czechoslovakia were invaded.

Diplomatic advances today indicated Hitler was taken completely by surprise, and the belief prevails that the plan has worked.

WAR COUNCIL MEETS

Hitler now may abandon any ideas for an open attack and confine his activities on behalf of the Sudetens to prolonged grinding pressure on Czechoslovakia. His "war council" was meeting today in Munich to decide future action.

The tri-power move was seen as a steal on the Dictator's own policy of bluff, since Britain still is unwilling actually to risk any war over the central European situation.

Premier Chamberlain today received leaders of the opposition in Parliament and advised them of developments.

He and other cabinet ministers are working out a peace plan based on autonomy for the German minority in Czechoslovakia which would give the Sudetens complete freedom in cultural and municipal matters.

Czechs Refuse To Recall Army

PRAGUE, May 23 (INS)—Czechoslovakia today refused to withdraw any troops from the Sudeten German areas, and sources closest to President Eduard Benes—regarded as personal victor in yesterday's local elections—said the present government policy toward the Germans would be continued.

Waiting

Russia's War Hordes

Berlin Believes It's All Over

BERLIN, May 23 (INS)—Apparently convinced the German-Czechoslovakian crisis has passed, for the present at least, officials maintained an attitude of studied calm today while keeping a close eye on Prague to see what practical measures will be taken to relieve the Sudeten situation.

There was an almost strange absence of excitement in the Nazi press despite two potentially dangerous incidents.

One was the crash of a Czechoslovakian military airplane on a reconnaissance flight near the German frontier, two fliers being reported killed, and the other an alleged attempt by Czech soldiers to cross the border near Bernhardsdorf.

With Czechoslovakia breathing much easier, highest official quarters said on behalf of the president:

"The independence of the republic has been saved, at least for the time being—thanks to the brilliant impression Czech military measures made, plus the reiterated assurances that France and Russia would rush assistance in the event of aggression.

CONTINUES POLICY

"The government will continue its policy of fostering a nationality statute, which will be submitted to Konrad Henlein (leader of the Sudeten Germans) when he returns from Germany."

The proposed statute would give part self-rule to the Sudetens, but so far Henlein has been uncompromising in his demands for full autonomy.

Henlein, it was understood, will confer with Premier Milan Hodza this week.

Greater nationalistic solidarity by the Czechs on one hand and the Germans on the other was shown in municipal election returns, leaving the two opposing elements more clearly delineated in their bitter struggle.

While the Sudeten German party increased its votes and held a clear majority in the Germanic districts of Czechoslovakia, the actual German voting strength was not materially changed.

WONT RECALL ARMY

The total was about the same as that obtained in the last poll by the Sudetens and the two smaller German activist parties, now combined with the Sudetens.

Quickly demanding that conditions at the frontiers be returned to normal, representatives of the Sudetens met Premier Hodza today.

Hodza, a Sudeten spokesman said, was non-committal, saying he "hoped" normal conditions could be re-established "in a few days," but refusing troop withdrawal pledges.

In Prague and other large Czech cities, gains of 15 to 20 per cent were shown by the Czech National Socialist party, the centrist group formerly headed by President Benes. Counting returns from Czech villages, the former Benes party advanced by 30 per cent.

The voting, watched with trepidation by all the world, was orderly.

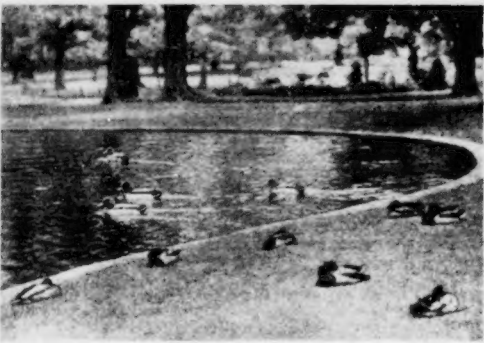

But not one of the 400,000 to 500,000 soldiers placed by defiant little Czechoslovakia along the German borders and throughout the Sudeten areas was recalled.

The Sudetens, according to the latest count, won an absolute majority in 45 towns of 1500 municipalities which voted. Further elections are due next Sunday.

Slain Girl's Kin Aids Boy Killer

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—State and defense counsel moved slowly today to select a jury to try thin, 16-year-old Donald Carroll, Jr., for the murder of his sweetheart—a killing for which even the girl's parents have forgiven him.

Wise-Quack To Duck, $800 Loss to Lady

DUCKS IN PUBLIC GARDENS TODAY

Wanna buy a duck?

Such an offer would be snatched up quickly today, no doubt, for police cast bewildered glances at the flock of ducks in the Public Garden and wondered which one has an $800 diamond in its crop.

And all wise-quacking aside, the situation is far from ducky. The diamond belonged to Mrs. Jeanne Lerman of Arlington road, Brookline, who discovered the loss after she had been feeding the score or more of ducks in a Public Garden pond. One of them, she recalled, pecked a bit too greedily at her finger. It left her ring without the diamond.

Dr. Jacob Lerman, her husband, went to the Back Bay police station today to confer with Captain Thomas J. Harvey on the following possibilities:

1—Buy all the ducks and perform a few appendectomies. (Park Commissioner William P. Long insists that under the law no one can harm a feather on the head of any of the city's precious ducks.)
2—X-ray the ducks and watch for the sparkle. (According to X-ray experts, the cost of seeing what the little ducks are made of would run well above $100.)

3—Pass the birds before a fluoroscope and hope for the diamond to show. (This process, while not always effective, is comparatively cheap as far as operating expenses are concerned.)

4—COMPLICATION: Even if the ducks get one of the above treatments there remains this: Mrs. Lerman remembered feeding pigeons. Public Garden pigeon census—2244.

Shortly after noon two men had entered the jury box, and both had passed significant tests.

To the defense both men—A. H. Quack, a salesman, and R. J. Davies, a purchasing agent—had pledged they had no prejudice against the surviving partner of an unfulfilled suicide pact. It being the defense contention that Donald was such a partner.

YOUTH NO BIAS

To the state, they had pledged that the youth of the occupant of the prisoner's dock would not bias them in his behalf.

As the process of juror-selection began, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Matthiesen, parents of blonde, 18-year-old Charlotte Matthiesen, appeared in the courtroom to offer moral support to the boy who killed their daughter.

Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carroll, were here, too, appearing in sorrowing amity with the other couple.

There, too, was Donald's 12-year-old, tow-headed brother, Douglas—a lad too short to see above the backs of other spectators.

A group of Donald's young friends sent him a note to "keep a stiff upper lip." Upon the press table was placed also a petition signed by 136 of the Carroll neighbors asking for help for "this unfortunate boy."

STARES AT FLOOR

Donald himself, brown-haired, pale and abstracted, kneaded his hands together and stared often at the floor.

Fred Matthiesen, the father of the victim, had said:

"My wife and I will testify at Donald's trial for him. He was like my own son."

Mrs. Matthiesen termed the death of her daughter, Charlotte, "a tragedy of adolescence."

District Attorney Charles P. Sullivan said the youth, a brilliant New York University student, told him he and Charlotte had decided on a death pact as "the only way out" when they discovered she was to become a mother.

Phone Girl, Editor Win 2 Dodge Heirs

DETROIT, May 23 (INS)—The long rumored marriage of motor millions heir Daniel G. Dodge to Laurine MacDonald, Gore Bay, Ont., telephone operator, was acknowledged officially today.

At the same time Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, mother of young Dodge, announced her daughter, Frances Dodge, will marry James B. Johnston, Jr., of Elizabeth, N. J. The announcements were made simultaneously at a buffet dinner at the Wilson suburban home last night.

Daniel and Frances are the children of the late John F. Dodge, pioneer automobile manufacturer who, with his brother, fashioned an early automotive empire.

NO DATE SET
No dates for the weddings were announced.

The romance of young "Danny" Dodge with the daughter of a Manitoulin, Ont., tug boat captain has been known for months, but this was the first time it had been officially recognized by the socially prominent family.

They met while young Dodge was on vacation. The rumors of an impending marriage became more insistent a few weeks ago when Miss MacDonald came to Windsor, just across the Detroit river from Detroit and suburban Rochester, for the marriage of a relative.

The family at that time refused to comment on the rumors beyond a cryptic:

"These things have to work themselves out."

EDITOR OF 'MEOW'

Johnston is editor of the swing music magazine "The Cat's Meow." Frances Dodge, a devoted horsewoman, returned home from the Atlantic City horse show for the announcement and immediately after the supper prepared to leave for the Devon show.

The two Dodge children—Danny is 20, Frances 23—are heirs to the $36,000,000 estate left by their father.

Young Dodge, who divides his time between work in automobile factories and hunting near his Manitoulin cabin, met the 18-year-old telephone operator while his cabin was under construction in the summer of 1935.

He accompanied her to dances and parties on the north woods island, where he is known for his democratic spirit. One islander once said:

"You'd think he only had $100."

More than 500 junior clubwomen, members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, gathered at the New Ocean House in Swampscott today for a pre-convention meeting.

Tomorrow the Federation opens its annual three-day conference, with a long list of distinguished speakers.

A banquet tonight at 6:30 o'clock will precede the traditional parade of junior club presidents, district directors and senior department members.

Seated at the head table for the dinner will be Mrs. Charles R. Storey, Mrs. Harold M. Scheibe, Mrs. Paul H. Nottage, all members of the council for junior club work.

Guest speaker will be Mary Sue Wigley of Dawson, Ala., who will speak to the juniors on "Making a Living and Living a Life."

Who Won, 'Tink' or 'Mack'?

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—Award for the informal "debate of the century" went to Representatives George Holden Tinkham, Republican, and John W. McCormack, Democrat, of Massachusetts, by unanimous consent of Congressmen and reporters in the House lobby last week.

Tinkham, millionaire Bostonian, whose ancestors crossed on the Mayflower, and the South Boston congressman held their debate on a subject nearly 2500 years old.

SURE THING BET?
It was: "Who arrived in England first: Anglo-Saxons, Jutes or Romans?"

McCormack offered to bet a box of 25 cigars the Anglos landed before the Romans, but Tinkham did not take up the bet until he thumbed through an English history book and claimed victory. He then suggested McCormack owed him the cigars.

However, McCormack contended history upheld his contention and proposed that "in fact the debate is a draw."

Representative Barton (R) of New York, who was elected to Congress on a pledge to "repeal a law a day," demanded a roll call, but mustered only three disinterested Congressmen from the west coast.

Another representative, listening to the controversy, which included the use of modern parliamentary procedure, proposed to Tinkham that he "not go back any farther than the Mayflower in future debates."

Tinkham, who prides himself on being a historian, marched off still claiming a triumph, while McCormack offered to compromise and call it even.

A Secret Treaty

How Allies Carved Turkey For Italy

—And Welched

By FRANK GERVASI

International News Service Staff Correspondent

(World Copyright, 1938, by International News Service. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

ROME, May 23—A hidden chapter of World War intrigue, disclosing how the Allies broke their promises of territorial rewards to Italy, was unearthed by International News Service today.

There are competent observers in Italy today, who believe it was this "betrayal" that paved the way for Fascism as Premier Mussolini's present-day diplomatic revenge.

The hitherto-unrevealed diplomatic intrigue centers about the secret treaty of San Giovanni di Moriani, in which Great Britain, France and Russia promised Italy a huge slice of Turkey along with the port of Smyrna as her share of the projected partition of Asia Minor.

MUSSOLINI'S CHANCE
Sabotage of the agreement, under pressure from Britain, Russia and France, was considered here as directly responsible for collapse of the moderate liberal government of Premier Vittorio Orlando. This in turn created for Mussolini a golden opportunity to seize leadership and thus gave the world a man, whose power is backed by a foreign policy aimed at redeeming all the Allies' broken pledges of territorial and economic advantages even at the cost of war.

The treaty, dug out of the dusty files by this correspondent, takes its name from the fact that it was signed in a sleeping car drawn up on a siding near the little town of San Giovanni Di Moriani near the (Details of another world war document, demonstrating once again how the allied nations attempted to "carve up" Europe and Asia Minor during the world war, were uncovered today by Frank Gervasi, International News Service Bureau chief in Rome. The document is in the form of a treaty reached in 1917, which awarded a large portion of Turkey to Italy. It was sabotaged at the Versailles conference two years later and to this action Gervasi traces one of the factors which led to Mussolini's rise to power

French frontier.

That was on the night of April 24, 1917, while the guns of Europe beat out a deafening clamor on the western front. It was then, according to Italian records, that the diplomats of France, Britain, Russia and Italy partitioned Asia Minor.

The treaty provided, through clauses interlocking with the pact of London and the secret Anglo-French treaty of May, 1916, that Italy would receive:

1—A definite sphere of influence in the Oriental basin of the Mediterranean.
2—The Dodecanese Islands.
3—A slice of Turkey bounded by a line running eastward just north of Smyrna as far as Nigde and then south to the Mediterranean, forming a rough quadrangle of 15,000 square miles.
The text of the treaty said:

"Italy promises to maintain Smyrna as a free port for France, her colonies and protectorates and for Great Britain, her colonies and dominions."

"Italy is to enjoy similar rights and privileges in the ports of Alexandretta, Caïso and St. Jean D'Acre."

"Mersina (lying south of the appropriated French zone of influence) will remain a free port for Italian commerce."

"Italian products will obtain free transit on the railway crossing to Vilayet and Adana."

"It is mutually understood the interests of the respective Powers will be scrupulously respected."

The opportunity for Italian trade outward, a fundamental of Italian expansionist ambitions in the Mediterranean, would have given Rome the outlet she needed then and which she thinks she needs today.

World War Intrigue Bared

Another chapter in World War intrigue is revealed in secret document uncovered by International News Service. What Italy was promised and what she didn't get are shown in map 1. The treaty provided for the sole possession of Dodecanese islands. Two and 3 a slice of Turkey bounded by Smyrna and Nigde and forming a rough quadrangle of 15,000 square miles. Four, also the privilege of free port for her colonies at Alexandretta. These broken pledges led to Mussolini's rise to power and his drive for revenge.

Italy might then have become a contented nation, but when Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sidney Sonnino went to the peace conference at Versailles to collect the allied promises they encountered a new situation that permitted the Greeks to land at Smyrna, the records disclose.

The sources, which revealed the treaty and its aftermath to this correspondent, furnished what were described a stereographic notes taken down at the May 11, 1919, morning session of the peace conference. Present were Georges Clemenceau, David Lloyd George, President Wilson, Sonnino, Orlando and Lord Hankey.

The notes state that Orlando pressed permission to land Italian troops at Smyrna and the following conversation ensued:

CLEMENCEAU: "Now, there remains only the Greek affair regarding which we must explain ourselves. During the absence of the Italian delegates (from the conference) the Greeks asked us permission to land at Smyrna and we acceded to their request. As a result, there has been a concentration of ships, I believe, at avia. We desired them to land. As far as we know, many Italian warships are at present in Smyrna—six or seven."

ORLANDO: "Only two!"
CLEMENCEAU: "We do not wish to see this proportion of disembarkation of Italian, English and French troops. France has only a small force there and does not wish the Italians to disembark in greater number."

ORLANDO: "You are speaking of a landing party of Greeks, French, English and Italians?"
CLEMENCEAU: "We will occupy Smyrna, but we repeat, we do not wish to give any indication of partition of territory."

LLOYD GEORGE: "We proposed that the occupation should be Greek to avoid eventual ulterior massacres (by Turks of Greek citizens)."

CLEMENCEAU: "I repeat, that we were asked permission to make this landing."

WILSON (interrupting angrily): "We suggested this to Greece. The original request did not come from Greece. The council suggested to Greece that they disembark their troops to prevent ulterior massacres."

ORLANDO: "This is news to me."

Orlando and Sonnino, according to the Italian records, then pointed out that the treaty of San Giovanni Di Moriani definitely advanced Smyrna to Italy. The conversation then continued:

LLOYD GEORGE: "Yes, but now that accord is no longer valid. Russia did not assent. You, on the other hand, have occupied many other points."

SONNINO: "The treaty of London (to which the treaty of San Giovanni Di Moriani was linked) still stands."

Here, and much to the irritation of the Italian delegates, according to information here, Lloyd George moved to call another meeting to consider the Italian demands en bloc. The Italians knew that by this method they would get even less than they had expected and objected to calling such a special meeting. The conference was reopened in the afternoon. The transcript:

LLOYD GEORGE: "I have to inform you the Greeks are about to steam into Smyrna."

WILSON: "They will leave soon."

LLOYD GEORGE: "They make it Kavala is only four hours away from Smyrna."

SONNINO: "The ships are already concentrated."

WILSON: "Yes, while you were absent."

LLOYD GEORGE: "That's the way it is. The position was taken weeks ago."

Thus Orlando and Sonnino returned to Rome empty-handed.

Throngs Cheer Vatican Aide In Budapest

BUDAPEST, May 23 (AP)—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, Papal secretary of state and Papal legate to the Eucharistic Congress beginning Wednesday, was welcomed with pomp and magnificence when he arrived from Rome today.

Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, and the entire cabinet were at the station to greet the cardinal.

Cardinal Pacelli proceeded in a brilliant procession to the royal palace on the Danube, where he will be the regent's guest during his stay.

The station and streets were brilliantly decorated and 50,000 school children packed the station plaza and lined the streets waving flags and cheering the Pope's representative.

In Mussolini square, the mayor of Budapest, greeted the Cardinal. Then the procession moved on to the coronation church, where heads of the Hungarian Church welcomed him.

As the palace gates swung shut behind the Cardinal the city's church bells, which had been pealing joyously, suddenly hushed.

Fear Child Slain, Body in River

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y., May 22 (AP)—Stalemated by a lack of clues in their search of golden-haired Betty Jane Hobbs, four, who has been missing since Friday, police today watched the Niagara River for her body.

Police Chief Frederick Hoefert said he believed the child might have been murdered and thrown into the river or have fallen in accidentally.

negotiations offered by the Czechoslovak government.

REVIEWS NEGOTIATIONS

Chamberlain merely said on this point that "the principal concern of his majesty's government has been to use all their influence" to bring about "peaceful negotiations." He continued:

"The government have represented to the Czechoslovakian government the need of taking every precaution for the avoidance of incidents and of making every possible effort to reach a comprehensive and lasting settlement with representatives of the Sudeten party."

"In this his majesty's government enjoyed the full co-operation of the French government."

"The Czechoslovakian government responded to this representation with the assurance that they appreciated the interest which his majesty's government manifested in this question and are resolved to seek an early complete solution."

Chamberlain went on: "The British Government represented to the German Government the urgent importance of reaching a settlement if European peace is to be preserved and have expressed their earnest desire that the German Government should co-operate with them in facilitating an agreement."

"His majesty's government at the same time informed the German Government of the advice tendered in Prague and of the assurances received from the Czechoslovakian Government."

Opposition quiet. "The German minister of foreign affairs said he welcomed the efforts being made by his majesty's government, and that the German Government fully shared their desire to see the negotiations succeed."

Clement R. Attlee, leader of the labor opposition, who had conferred with Chamberlain earlier in the day, said he would not press the prime minister for a further statement "in view of the tension in the world today."

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakian minister to Britain, followed the prime minister's speech from a choice position in the diplomats' gallery, along with Charles Corbin, French ambassador.

Dr. Herbert von Dirksen, German ambassador, was not there.

"I KNOW TOBACCO... I GROW IT!"

Mr. James Graves sells the pick of his crop to Camel

HOW DO I KNOW MY CIGARETTE CONTAINS THE FINEST TOBACCO? BECAUSE I SMOKE CAMELS. CAMEL BOUGHT THE PICK OF MY LAST CROP AND PAID A SIGHT MORE THAN FOR ORDINARY GRADES. MOST GROWERS 'ROUND HERE SOLD THEIR BEST LOTS TO CAMELS TOO. NO WONDER CAMEL IS THE MOST POPULAR CIGARETTE IN THESE PARTS!

MEN who grow fine tobaccos—who sell them—who get the checks—they know the quality of tobacco that goes into various cigarettes. And they say, "Camels buy our finest grades." So, if you want to enjoy a cigarette made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO—Turkish and Domestic—it's just plain logic to choose Camels.

Blonde Hunted For Chelsea Slaying Quiz

A 22-year-old blonde was being sought by Boston police today as a witness in the fatal shooting of Joseph Perrotta, 43-year-old iron worker, in a Chelsea club early today.

Perrotta was found dying in an alley off Winnimmet street.

IN CUSTODY

Shortly after his death in Chelsea Memorial Hospital police took into custody seven persons who were in a nearby club at the time of the shooting.

From their stories officers heard of the girl who ran from a telephone booth when the fatal shot rang out, crying:

"What happened?"

An unidentified man ran up to her, witnesses said, and answered:

"You know better. Get out of here." She disappeared.

The police theory that he was shot in the cafe and dragged to the alley to die is based on the fact that his hat, later identified by his sobbing widow, allegedly was found in a wastebasket in the club.

Six months ago Perrotta's 19-year-old daughter died after an operation, and his son Louis, 15, is now at the Massachusetts General Hospital following an appendectomy.

WIDOW SOBS

At her Congress street home, Mrs. Perrotta sobbed that she had begged her husband many times not to frequent the Winnimmet and Williams street neighborhood where murder overtook him today.

"So often I had asked him not to go," she said, "but he would only laugh and say he wasn't a child any longer."

"Joe was a good, mild-tempered man—he didn't drink or gamble and never got mixed up in any kind of rackets."

DUTCH BOMBER KILLED

Fog Lifts After 5 Die In Crashes

A dense fog, blamed for at least five auto deaths in New England, lifted just before noon today.

Shipping by land and water had been tied up and thousands of commuters to Boston and other cities delayed.

As the mists cleared, ships that had been held in the harbor, got underway and Boston ferries returned to schedules. The New York boat, the American Shipper and the Lady Drake, at anchor all night, docked.

HIGHWAYS CHOKED

Highways that had been choked with traffic as fog blanketed them since early last night cleared and truck and auto traffic resumed its normal pace. Planes resumed their flights.

A near tragedy was averted when Angelo A. Coult, 21, of Norwood, a student pilot, flew blind for an hour over Woburn before he was able to make an emergency landing.

The weather, however, was held responsible for five deaths in highway accidents over the week-end.

2 OTHERS DYING

Dead were Peter Giagalos, 18, of Broadway, Cambridge; Edgar Eyer, eight months, of Bloomfield, Ct.; James Amend, 30, and Rudolph Heubauer, of New York, and Stanley R. Gray, 21, of Windsor, Vt.

Allen A. Stone, 20, of Bartlett avenue, Arlington, and Nino Deo of Concord, N. H., were dying of injuries received in crashes.

Busby Berkeley Fights Love Suit

HOLLYWOOD, May 23 (INS)—Busby Berkeley, film dance director, accused of pirating the love of Carole Landis, 19, motion picture dancer, declared today he will not pay a penny for heart balm.

Sued by Actor Irving Wheeler for $250,000, Berkeley placed his defense in the hands of an attorney. According to the lawyer, the dance director's defense will be: That no love existed between Carole Landis and her husband for him to pilfer.

That neither Berkeley nor anyone else in his studio knew Carole was married.

That nothing improper passed between Berkeley and the dancer when they went out together.

"This suit against Mr. Berkeley is silly," declared Miss Landis. "I thought Irving had forgotten all about our marriage, it has been so long since I have heard from him."

Move for Early Adjournment

With the revamped $71,700,000 state budget and its $5,000,000 distribution bill nearing enactment, State House solons today looked forward to an adjournment within two weeks.

Eagerness for a quick adjournment was evidenced by the legislators, most of whom plan to participate in this fall's election campaign.

Governor Hurley has until Thursday to act on the new budget measure placed on his desk last week. It is substantially the same as the one he recommended and which was defeated after a stormy debate. It appeared likely that there will be some controversy over the proposal that $5,000,000 from the highway fund be turned over to cities and towns.

Ore. Democrats
Seek to Heal Rift

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23 (AP) — The Democratic party in Oregon faced the task today of reunifying its ranks behind its gubernatorial nominee, Henry Hess, whose home-stretch victory in Friday's primary fulfilled the avowed purpose of Liberal party elements to "beat Martin."

Hess stretched his lead over Gov. Charles H. Martin to nearly 7000, polling 59,169 votes in 1648 of the state's 1681 precincts to 52,534 for Martin.

Pulpit Pensions
Hit as Too Small

Unitarian ministers do not receive the pension allotted to a Boston policeman, Dr. Louis C. Cornish of Cambridge told 1000 members of the American Unitarian Association at Bulfinch Place Chapel today.

The occasion was the opening session of Unitarian Anniversary Week in and around Boston.

"A Boston policeman receives $1800 a year when he retires," Dr. Cornish said.

"Some of our retired men have given half a century of devoted service to the church, and as things stand now, we will never reach the level of the Boston policeman."

"Other denominations outstrip us in generously providing for their retired men."

Cornish said the responsibility rested with the ministers and they should contribute to the general fund.

AWAIT DEATH VERDICT

A medical verdict was awaited today by the death of Manuel Fray, unemployed plumber of Spring street, Cambridge, who was found semi-conscious on the cellar floor of his home yesterday.

2000 Blunders
In Jobs Quiz

More than 2000 blunders were made by "inexperienced and inefficient" state Unemployment Compensation Commission workers in recording claims from the Springfield district alone, legislative "gift job" probes were told today.

Matthew Campbell, CIO vice-president for Western Massachusetts, told the investigating committee that UCC "inefficiency" caused two months' delay in payment of benefits to 6000 jobless workers in his area.

Campbell's charges were made after Attorney Warren Patten, special counsel for legislative probes, had asserted today that one of his investigators was ordered out of Charlestown by police.

Patten said he had sent the investigator to "check up" on reported illness of Civil Service Commissioner Thomas H. Green.

Three visit attempts had been made to summons Green as a witness before the "gift job" probe committee, Patten asserted.

Campbell was today's first witness.

6000 STILL UNPAID

He said his assignment in recent months has been to assist former workers of the Springfield district in filing unemployment claims and in obtaining benefits due them under the law.

Of claims properly filed, on Jan. 3, more than 6000 remained unpaid two months later, Campbell asserted.

After being given "the usual song and dance" at Springfield UCC headquarters, he and his associates complained to state UCC headquarters here, Campbell said.

JANITOR 'BRIED'

"But we bribed a janitor," he said, "and the janitor took us up to the 13th floor. Then we walked to the 14th floor and found UCC Executive Secretary Laurence Harrington sitting all alone."

Finally given access to UCC records, he and his associates found the "more than 2000" blunders, to which he referred, Campbell said.

CITES SUFFERING
"Most of them," he testified, "were due to inefficiency and lack of training on the part of UCC operators."

Campbell said delay in paying unemployment benefits caused "great suffering."

One widow, with seven children, he said, was evicted from her home when she couldn't pay $29 due the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation.

"Yet, at the same time, one of her sons had $75 coming to him from the UCC, but couldn't get it," Campbell asserted.

WOMAN APPEARS

"Mr. Green was reported too ill to appear," Attorney Patten said today, "so, as counsel for the legislative committee, I sent an investigator to check up on Mr. Green's condition."

"A woman who said she was a Mrs. Green came to the door."

"The civil service commissioner is a bachelor, but has several married brothers."

"She said: 'You can't see Mr. Green now. He's been ill. But you might be able to see him later at his office at the State House if this fog clears up.'"

"My investigator then went down the street a few doors and stood there."

"He saw a man go in the Green's home and come out again, accompanied by the woman who had said she was Mrs. Green."

"The two walked down the street, and talked to a policeman who was directing school traffic at Baldwin and Bunker Hill streets."

"The policeman and the man—wh. later said his name was Donovan and he was Mr. Green's secretary—approached my investigator."

"What the — are you doing around here?" the policeman demanded.

"My investigator said he was waiting to try to see Mr. Green. He added, after some argument, that he wanted to get some information from Mr. Green for a free-lance story he planned to write."

"The policeman wasn't satisfied, however. He demanded 'credentials' of the investigator, who said he hadn't any with him. "Then you get the — one of Charlestown and don't let me see you here again!" the policeman ordered."

REVEALS ERRORS

Another witness, Julius C. Almeida of Ludlow, also blamed Unemployment Compensation Commission errors for delay in payment of benefits.

Almeida said he represented members of a Springfield manufacturing firm's company union.

In his testimony he corroborated CIO Vice President Campbell's claim that UCC "inefficiency," rather than employers' alleged unwillingness to co-operate, held up payment of just claims.

In hundreds of cases he investigated, employers promptly furnished all necessary records in correct form, Almeida told probes.

In one instance, he said, a Springfield worker had earned $150 during the first three quarters of 1937, as shown by payroll records of the firm.

Yet, two months after the man had filed his unemployment compensation claim, the UCC informed him he was ineligible for benefits, having earned "less than $160 during 1937," Almeida testified.

Kirstein Sees Democracy as Only Salvation

A plan that the Jewish population of America work to preserve democracy and further social justice was made by Louis E. Kirstein, newly-elected president of Beth Israel hospital, before 900 Jewish leaders at the hospital's 10th anniversary dinner in the Hotel Statler.

"This anniversary of the founding of the new Beth Israel Hospital is a token and landmark of the quality of citizenship we should bring to our country," Kirstein said. "We who believed 'it can't happen now' in this enlightened modern day once more see some of our people driven into medieval ghettos."

"They are being denied access to the very hospitals they built and maintained. Let us derive satisfaction and joy that a kind fate steered us to these American shores."

"We know no other way but the way of democracy. We cherish no other responsibilities above those that lead us to build social institutions, maintain hospitals, contribute to universities and do unto others as we would have them do unto us."

Albert A. Ginsberg, retiring president, was praised for his "untiring devotion to the cause" and Kirstein announced that the trustees of the hospital had voted to erect a tablet in his honor.

Summerfield's Goes Forward A New Store Opens In Waltham

The President has asked for co-operation from business—for the owners of businesses, little and big, to go forward—expand, create jobs for more people.

Summerfield is doing everything in its power to follow this suggestion.

On January 24th in the Boston Daily Record Summerfield's ran the following editorial.

The President has asked Merchants to lower prices to encourage more buying.

Summerfield's plans to co-operate and has made heavy price reductions in every department.

Help us to succeed in offering the greatest furniture values New England has ever seen by buying from your nearest Summerfield Store.

This was the first published response to the President's appeal to lower prices as a means of increasing business and putting more people to work. For several weeks following announcements appeared in every Boston newspaper, over the radio, by direct mail.

In April Summerfield was the first store in the United States to co-operate with the Federal Housing Association to encourage the purchase of homes.

An official Federal Housing Association booth was set up in the Boston store and a co-operative plan was worked out with the American Builders Association, The American Airlines, The Hotel Piccadilly in New York City and the Federal Housing Administration. This plan was instrumental in obtaining homes for scores of people.

All through this period Summerfield's awarded an orchid a day through a daily radio broadcast to any woman who had been of outstanding service to her Community.

And now Summerfield's leads once more. A new store in Waltham offering new jobs, new hopes, new encouragement to many.

A store need not be just a store. Through leadership and co-operation it can be a mighty power for good in the Community it serves.

Priest Advises Hospital Class

Rev. Francis L. Archdeacon, S.J., warned the 1933 class of the Boston City Hospital against becoming "hardened" as baccalaureate exercises were conducted at the Immaculate Conception Church.

He advised them to be heroic, courageous, kind, sympathetic and generous in their duties.

Lost, Found Dept.

Absent-minded parishioners of the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury were taking stock today. Rev. John F. Leonard announced from the pulpit that a number of umbrellas, gloves, a pair of shoes, a man's hat and a ham sandwich had been left behind after services.

Slashing Victim Seen Recovering

Carl Anderson, 43-year-old WPA worker of Playstead road, Dorchester, was recovering in the City Hospital today from numerous cuts of the wrist, throat and body, inflicted, according to police, with a jack-knife.

His landlady, Mrs. Selma Redel, who discovered him bleeding in his room, told police he had been despondent recently.

Bomb Mexican Rebel Air Base

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 23 (AP)—Army fliers said today they had bombarded Ex-General Saturnino Cedillo's rebel air base, destroying two camouflaged planes.

The raid was in retaliation for an attack Saturday by a white plane on the field headquarters of President Lazaro Cardenas at Villa Hermosa, three miles from here.

Four bombs dropped by the white plane exploded in an air field near the residence from which President Cardenas is directing military forces trying to crush the Cedillo insurrection.

VILLAGE BOMBED

A rebel plane was reported to have bombed the village of Buenavista, spreading terror among the inhabitants and causing them to flee.

The government defense ministry asserted the uprising was confined to the State of San Luis Potosi, but strong hints were given that President Cardenas is keeping a watchful eye on activities in at least three other states.

Dispatches from Guadalajara and mountainous Jalisco, traditional haunts of rebel factions, had been visited by government planes which dropped pro-Cardenas propaganda leaflets.

60 REBELS KILLED

A press report said General Anacleto Guerrero, governor of the important northeastern state of Nuevo Leon, travelled here to pledge his allegiance to Cardenas.

The Senate received reports that disorders were feared in the state of Tabasco.

Three of Cedillo's Fliers Arrested

LAREDO, Texas, May 23 (AP)—The Laredo Times said today three aviators of the forces of Saturnino Cedillo, rebellious former Mexican general, had been imprisoned at Nuevo Laredo after their arrest at the international bridge. The Times said one of the men was reported to be chief of the Cedillo aviation corps, and another chauffeur to Cedillo.

Germany Deals
Blow at China;
Recalls Officers

HANKOW, China, May 23 (AP)—Berlin dealt China a war resistance blow today, by ordering the recall of Gen. Alexander von Falkenhausen and his entire staff of 40-odd German military advisers to the army of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The withdrawal was said to have been ordered after strong urging by Tokyo on the basis of the German-Japanese pact to combat Communism.

German authorities in Hankow today informally notified the Chinese government of the step. Chiang presently is reported directing the fight along the vital Lungshan Railway.

Hope for some modification was not completely abandoned.

(It was reported in Hongkong that German agents also were ceasing to supply China with military supplies.)

250,000 Chinese*Escape Jap Traps

SHANGHAI, May 23 (INS)—A quarter of a million Chinese troops, trapped and broken into relatively small bands by the Japanese drive in the Suchow area, have escaped the net, according to official Chinese reports at Hankow today.

Instead of meeting with the annihilating planned for them by the Japanese, the Chinese crossed the Tientsin-Pukow railroad and rejoined the remainder of the army.

West of Suchow, the Chinese are now re-forming for a fresh stand.

Japanese accounts, however, said some 40,000 Chinese were taken prisoner during the recent fighting which resulted in Japan's capture of Suchow and cutting of the Lungshan railroad at several points.

Japan now is concentrating on a grand offensive aimed at taking Hankow, the provisional capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Cedillo Nephew
Killed in Clash

MEXICO CITY, May 23 (AP)—The defense ministry announced today that Hipolito Cedillo, nephew of the rebel leader, ex-General Saturnino Cedillo, was killed with eleven followers in a clash with government troops yesterday near Lazunita, in southeastern San Luis Potosi state.

The ministry said Hipolito Cedillo was heading a rebel band of 150 men which clashed with a column of the government's 35th Cavalry Regiment.

The ministry denied reports that a rebel plane flew yesterday over San Luis Potosi city.

Roosevelt To See Middies Graduate

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP).—President Roosevelt will attend the graduation exercises at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., June 1.

In making this announcement, the White House said today it had not been decided what part he will take at the ceremonies.

From the Annapolis trip, the President may travel from Washington to inspect a resettlement project near Leesville, W. Va., before returning and going to Hyde Park, N. Y., for the Memorial Day Week-end.

At the same time, President's summer vacation and other plans were being laid up and Congress adjourned for the summer. He was thinking of a second voyage to the South Atlantic States.

It was said that if he could get time to visit the other country in the East Coast and take off on a cruise for the West Coast of South America and the South Atlantic, the President would do so.

For some time, the President has been making trips to Kentucky and Oklahoma, where Democratic Senators Barkley and Thomas respectively, face primary contests, and then visit his son Elliott, near Fort Worth, Tex.

The President would be first to arrive in Annapolis, July 3 for the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the battle of Annapolis, and to Marietta, O., July 8, for the 150th anniversary of establishment of the Northwest Territory.

'Build Merchant Marine,' Plea of Maritime Head

There is no doubt in anyone's mind that it is almost a waste of money to build warships without a merchant marine to carry them. The maritime head has made this plea in a speech at the city hall last night. He said that the city should build a merchant marine to carry the warships and that this would be a more economical way to build a navy.

Try That Key!

By Nelson Harding

The Editor Says: When the Government took its employment census last November it made the amazing discovery that the jobless population of the nation was equal to the total population of FIFTEEN OF THE STATES.

Actual count showed that 7,845,016 men and women who want jobs did not have them and could not get them.

Men talk and little action followed in Washington. Naturally the depression became deeper, more serious. So, today, it is not surprising to see conservative estimates placing the number of persons physically and mentally able to work at TWELVE MILLION.

The Government's problem has not changed. It is still the same as it was six months ago, or six years ago. It is: HOW TO PUT THE UNEMPLOYED BACK INTO JOBS AND TO KEEP THEM THERE.

Clearly the radical "emergency" measures and the muddled theories of starry-eyed professors and economic quacks have failed to work.

To everybody it is only too apparent that the Government has been trying to open the Door to Recovery with the wrong keys. Excessive taxes, pump pricing, business experiments, rationing and the Hall-Pratt trade treaties with low standard clauses have merely aggravated the situation.

And yet all the while the Government has had the right key in its hand. Today, everything is a failure, the Government believes the key. There are TWENTY MILLION reasons why the Government is blind. Every sane American is a reason.

COLLEGE SNOBBERY is rebuked and condemned by Harvard University's democratic president, Dr. James B. Conant.

In 1937 before the annual meeting of the Associated Harvardians, he voiced this common sense.

"College snobbery is one of many poisons which are making us sick today. Why a man trained within a university should feel himself superior to a man trained elsewhere, I never could understand."

"I hope public opinion may return to a more rational recognition of the basic problems of so-called higher education and realize that universities are only means of accomplishing certain social ends. NOT INSTITUTIONS FOR TURNING OUT THE TYPECAST OF A VOCATIONAL ARISTOCRACY."

Dr. Conant is right; four years' attendance at a college does not guarantee anybody into a SUPERIOR person. The most that can be hoped for is to develop a few of the individual's God-given talents. It is like polishing the headlight on an automobile; results are shown on the surface one rubs than on the quality of the material of the machine.

The Government must stop its inferior type of person. It must believe in the ASSURANCE of learning and does not pretend to be cultured. Only educational fakery and the snobbery of inferior talent is college snobbery.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, May 23.—CONSERVATIVE Democrats—and this includes many in Congress who vote New Deal because they have to—are going to sweep the States in the November elections.

These Democrats are not only winning in the set-back the New Deal has received in the Pennsylvania primaries, but they are showing that the Republican party will sweep the States in the November elections.

These politicians have their heads turned today on the all-important question of party control in 1940. It is easy to understand their emotions.

CONSERVATISM in Congress represents the defeat of the Lewis and Clark advance as indicating that the huge relief expenditures in Pennsylvania, brought into the campaign the primary campaign in the most recent, Washington, of the political fight in Pennsylvania are no longer the ruling factor with the voters.

One of the congressional speeches in the primary was the defeat for re-election of Representative Michael J. Stack of Philadelphia.

Although he favored the Federal Wages and Hours Bill and made the wage control a primary issue in Philadelphia, Mr. Stack was defeated.

TWO inferences were quickly drawn from this: That the voters are as greatly interested in the Wages and Hours Bill as the Deal brain trusters would make out. And that Mr. Stack's defeat was due to the fact that he was on the outs with the Pennsylvania Democratic organization. An organization opponent defeated him. Thus in every timid congressional mind the power of the LOCAL ORGANIZATION is emphasized.

Another effect of the Pennsylvania primaries was to emphasize Mr. Roosevelt's loss of control over the conservative Democratic faction of his New Deal coalition which for five years has reigned America.

It strikingly illustrates the significance of the Federal Wages and Hours Bill in the eyes of the voters. It is a sign that the same coalition is being broken up, and that the third party is being born, without waiting for the primaries.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

A WOMAN may sometimes dream of her beautiful 20th birthday, but the only day of which a man dreams is TOMORROW.

No matter how hard it is raining today, he can always see a bright sunrise ahead of him tomorrow.

In short, a man LIVES while he lives. He may die sooner than a woman, but he never dies of MONOTONY! He never withers or stagnates.

And now, modern women are beginning to take a leaf from man's book. They have discovered that the greatest enemy to youth is STAGNATION.

That's why they are stepping out at 20 or 40 or 60, and starting a new business, a new career, a new beauty parlor, a new social reform, taking up a new cult, even going in for a new romance—finding a brand NEW INTEREST in life!

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Postmaster Sees New Era of Prosperity

Aviation in New England! What is it today? What will it be tomorrow? How can it catch our people and increase their happiness?

Natural culture and romance is flying today. It has become an important industry, an influence on the nation's destiny.

And one of the most important divisions of aviation is the airmail service, which is discussed today.

By PAUL WHELFORD

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

Back two decades ago it was from Kitty Hawk, N. C. in 1918, the Wright brothers flew the first air mail consignment. It consisted of 15 letters.

Eight years later the first air mail consignment was flown out of Massachusetts—seven letters, one Massachusetts codfish and one postcard of Boston-baked beans.

In that same year the air mail carried a total of 106,745 letters and parcels out of the state.

AND LAST YEAR THERE WERE CARRIED 7,259,400 LETTERS AND PARCELS—TO BRING THE TOTAL FROM 1928 TO 1937 INCLUSIVE, TO A GRAND AGGREGATE OF WELL OVER 14,000,000 LETTERS AND PARCELS.

What does this phenomenal increase of 650 per cent in only 11 years mean to Massachusetts?

And New England? And what does it mean to the state where industry produces important changes have occurred?

Answering these questions, Postmaster Peter F. Taggart, who took that office three years ago and who, even in that time has seen the air mail postcard carried out of Massachusetts jump nearly 97 per cent from Postmaster Taggart's 82,984 pounds in 1935 to 161,732 pounds in 1937.

"AIR MAIL INCREASES THE POSSIBILITY OF MORE POSITIONS AND BETTER JOBS IN NEW ENGLAND," says the postmaster.

"THIS IS BECAUSE IT DESTROYS DISTANCE, SO THAT NEW ENGLAND AS A MANUFACTURING CENTER, NEED NOT DEPEND UPON ITS NEIGHBORHOOD OR HOUSING PROBLEMS, BUT ON THE ACTIVITIES AND EFFICIENCY OF THE AIR MAIL."

Taggart, an air mail enthusiast, is working in the history of the air mail, and the history of the air mail can be written from the Wright brothers' flight at Kitty Hawk to the first transatlantic flight of the United States air mail from coast to coast and from country to country this very day and night.

THE OWN THE GREATEST SYSTEM OF AIR TRANSPORTATION IN THE WORLD TODAY THE FASTEST, SAFEST SYSTEM OF SUPER-SPEED, NOT ONLY FOR AIR MAIL BUT FOR THE SAFEST AND MOST COMFORTABLE METHOD OF RAPID TRANSIT FOR PASSENGERS KNOWN TO THE IMAGINATION OF MANKIND SINCE THAT ERA OF GREEK AND ROMAN MYTHOLOGY WHEN STORY-TELLERS DREAMED OF WINNING THROUGH THE AIR LIKE THE GODS.

"Banking and insurance companies have just begun to realize that the time value of bonds and policies can be greatly accelerated through use of the air mail."

"As examples, the saving of time in hours over surface time through using air mail is 74 hours between Boston and Los Angeles, MORE THAN THREE FULL DAYS; 69 hours between Boston and St. Louis; 48 hours between Los Angeles and Dallas, Texas; 47 hours between Boston and Puerto Rico.

A stream as fast as their express is only 14 days away from Boston by air mail, instead of two weeks. That separates these points before the perfection of aerial transportation.

"When started on the results of the Pick-Up Day observance of May 19 are compiled, they will show the needs and demands of all citizens in this area for local inter-city air mail service and the feasibility of adding this further service."

"On that day, real tests were made as to the practicability of interchanging air mail from city-to-city and from town-to-town in comparatively close ranges."

MEANWHILE THE FOREIGN AIR MAIL SERVICE IS INVALUABLE TO THE NEW ENGLAND AND AMERICAN BUSINESS MAN GENERALLY, IN SPENDING FOREIGN MATTERS FOR IT COVERS THE VERY AREA WHERE HIS GREATEST OPPORTUNITIES LIE IN LATIN AMERICA.

"Here is a region whose development has only begun, when modern products are needed to make machines and materials to be made by government strategy to produce goods and services within their own borders."

"The history of every great nation can be written in the history of the air mail, and the history of the air mail can be written from the Wright brothers' flight at Kitty Hawk to the first transatlantic flight of the United States air mail from coast to coast and from country to country this very day and night."

THE OWN THE GREATEST SYSTEM OF AIR TRANSPORTATION IN THE WORLD TODAY THE FASTEST, SAFEST SYSTEM OF SUPER-SPEED, NOT ONLY FOR AIR MAIL BUT FOR THE SAFEST AND MOST COMFORTABLE METHOD OF RAPID TRANSIT FOR PASSENGERS KNOWN TO THE IMAGINATION OF MANKIND SINCE THAT ERA OF GREEK AND ROMAN MYTHOLOGY WHEN STORY-TELLERS DREAMED OF WINNING THROUGH THE AIR LIKE THE GODS.

(In tomorrow's Boston Evening American, another outstanding New England man will discuss a different angle of aviation in this page.)

Barney Ross Is Fighting Champion } Has More Class Than Joe Louis

By JACK CONWAY

IT WILL not help the boxing game if Henry Armstrong, world's featherweight champion, wins from Barney Ross, welterweight boss, in their 15-round battle in the Garden Bowl at Long Island, N. Y., on Thursday night. If Armstrong can conquer Ross, he can also defeat Lou Ambers, lightweight king. Three titles would then be held by the one boxer, which would not help increase interest in the ring game.

Mr. Boston

I would not think Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Club would care to have a triple champion in the person of Armstrong. With a featherweight, lightweight and welterweight champion Jacobs has a better opportunity to get attractive matches that will fill his indoor Garden and also give him cards for the Garden Bowl, Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds.

Of course, if Mike wanted to have a "Caravan of Champions," as he did last September, he could make it a one-man show if Armstrong defeats Ross and then goes on to give Ambers a pasting.

I think it would be a good thing for boxing for Ross to remain dead of the welterweight division. Barney is the only remaining Jewish champion. Mike Jacobs knows better than anybody else that Jewish boxing fans are the best purchasers of the high-priced market seats. Obviously they will not be interested in seeing Armstrong defend his welterweight title if he should win it against John Hennessey or some other bird who may get an idea in his fight.

Ross has been a worthy title holder. The Chicago welterweight has more natural ring class than any other champion. If Joe Louis possessed Ross' knowledge of boxing and his competitive spirit, he would be a cinch to knock out Max Schmeling inside of five rounds.

Armstrong is expected to weigh in at 135 pounds to comply with the rules of the New York Athletic Commission in regard to weight differences between two boxers. Armstrong's best fighting notch is 130 pounds. He will be a race horse that carries five more pounds than he cares to. The extra weight will slow Armstrong down and cause him to tire if it develops into a long fight.

Armstrong Great Body Puncher

ARMSTRONG has made a reputation for himself as a good body puncher. He has a powerful right hand and a left hand that is a real puncher. He is a real body puncher. He is a real body puncher.

The history of the ring proves that a good little man cannot beat a good big man. Granting Armstrong is a good little man, as his record proves, one must admit Ross is a good big man. Barney has slipped from the form he showed in his first two battles with McLarnin, but he is still a great fighter.

He knows what to do and he knows how to do it. He is a real body puncher. He is a real body puncher.

If Ross wins, Armstrong will then step down a class and box Lou Ambers. A win for Armstrong will result in a return tussle between the colored sensation and Barney Ross in Chicago.

Eddie Mead Manages Armstrong

EDDIE MEAD manages Armstrong. Eddie is a real body puncher. He is a real body puncher.

I was boxing in the Navy, said Sharkey, "and decided I would get a professional manager. When in New York as a member of the crew of the Battleship Denver, I went to Eddie Mead's office one morning at 9 o'clock intent upon asking him to become my manager. The office was closed and I never returned.

The Denver then sailed for Boston. I went to train at Harry Kelley's Gym. Johnny Buckley saw me working out with Johnny Vacca, a bantamweight. The difference in the size of Vacca and myself attracted Buckley's attention, and he talked with me before I left the gym. I then went under his management, and had the good fortune to become a world's champion."

'I'm Ready To Go,' Says Diz

By WALTER NILEY

Joe "Diz" Dean insists that he is "ready to go," that nothing is wrong with his pitching arm and that he is ready to step in and take his turn on the mound for the Cubs immediately.

But Chubby Grimm feels other wise.

"It isn't his arm, but lack of early season practice that holds him back," Uncle Chubby tells.

Dean is one of the hardest workers on the Cubs. He snatches all over the outfield and then moves to the infield during the batting practice.

"This is the only team in the majors to play for," he remarks between his moments of a "big one."

"We've got a real bunch of fellows."

In the next breath he wants to know all about how the Cards look for him. St. Louis players started asking about his short stay in Boston.

STENGEL A-1 MANAGER

These seven straight losses, only one game from second place, have been playing smart baseball all season. The only married single men's tilt they have engaged in was the 16 to 11 affair they won down in the Quaker City, when Gene Moore and Earl Maggert hit homers with the bases loaded. . . . Those who really understand the game are convinced the local National League club is playing the cleverest article of ball they've seen in many years.

Ed Dudley

And again, I'll say: Ed Shoffner has pitched the best brand of baseball. As a manager Stengel has been tending this season. . . . The Municipal City Hall League is developing considerable interest in the royal and ancient game. . . . There are four clubs, George Wright, Mt. Hood, Fresh Pond and Happy Valley, in the organization. . . . And the schedule calls for home and home series. . . . Among the outstanding players are Jimmy Gannon, Stuart Dinan, Jackie Flynn, Lou Kuewer, Owen Dooley, Bud Marad, Joe Kelly, Lou De Pass, Ruri Gordon, John Stokes and J. Cushman. . . . Winifred Peterson, formerly of Oakley, is teaching golf and swimming at the Hartford Y. W. C. A., and she has been declared a professional. . . . Dennis Shute, Bar. Turn, a resident with his pal "Jug" Mespada for the Mass. open title. . . . Ed Dudley has received an offer to enter the movies.

And, Ben Bernie is trying to entice Dick Metz on his radio hour. . . . What's the story about the P. G. A. championship coming to Boston in 1937? . . . GRIMES.

Kaplan Bent On K. O. Win

Roxbury Boy Faces Zanelli

Mike Kaplan of Roxbury hopes to stop Ralph Zanelli before the 10-round limit when they clash Friday night at the Garden in the feature bout of the Goodwin A. C. boxing show.

Kaplan's amazing boxing skill, featuring a lightning left-hand, has completely overshadowed the fact that he hits a solid punch.

Testimony that Kaplan can elicit is offered by Honey Melody and Lew Raymond, both of whom tested Kaplan's right in recent fights.

While this Kaplan-Zanelli fight is a "natural" which has got the fight fans humming again, the secondary feature, also listed for ten rounds, between Salvatore Bartolo, East Boston, and Tony Dupre, Manchester, N. H., Newland's 126-pound champion may reach show-stealing proportions.

Their last was a thriller, Bartolo just missing lifting the N. E. feather crown by a slim decision.

Dante Yannetti, Chelsea, runs into trouble in the eight-round semifinal with Frankie Paul, Worcester wallflower.

In a six, Young Byron meets Tony Bent, while George Salamone will make his pro debut in the opening four against an opponent to be selected.

Ross Sees Decision Victory

By BOB CONSIDINE

GROSSINGER LAKE, N. Y., May 23 (INS)—Barney Ross finished the serious side of his training for the Henry Armstrong fight Thursday, and then told us some of the things that have gone on in his mind of late.

"Sure I've visualized the thing," he said, as he sat in the bright sun of his leafy cottage yard. "A fighter tries to keep his mind on something else, but it keeps coming back to the fight."

"There's nothing new about this one, except that I'm fighting a fellow who can make you look awfully bad."

"I know I've got to fight him differently. He's a problem, the way he keeps boring in at you."

"The way he weaves and crouches you never know whether he's a righthander or a left-hander. He's the only fighter in the country who can lead with his right, and not get his top knocked off."

"It'll take an awfully good fighter to beat him."

ROSS' PLANS

Ross, for instance?

He shrugged.

"I never predict fights. How can a fellow really tell?"

"Here's what I hope to do, though."

"He's unorthodox, but his very unorthodoxy makes me think that's the only way he can fight. So if I could make him change that style into something else, he's lost."

"For instance, can you imagine Henry standing up straight and fighting?"

He chuckled easily, and his face was full of his thoughts.

ON KNOCKOUTS

"But, truthfully, I don't see myself knocking him out," Ross said, quickly defying the hoary tradition of sinister pre-fight statements.

"If you do everything else correctly, the knockout follows naturally. If you concentrate only on betting a fellow out, you'll find yourself being cuffed around, because you're wide open."

Scheih Keeps Jockey Lead

Freddie Scheih, idol of New England racegoers, is leading the jockey colony at Suffolk Downs in the quest for the new Green curve side-arm wrist watch which is being offered the leading jockey for the 57-day meeting by the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

Scheih, although idle here Saturday, due to riding Sycat in the King's Plate at Woodbine, is still way in front in the Suffolk contest. The contest among the trainers is a hectic one, with George Alexander and Harvey Campbell at the top of the heap.

Women's Golf Midland, Northern In Big Test

By BILL GRIMES

And now we come to the tenth and final match of the 18th annual Women's Golf Association match championship, with Midland and Central deadlocked for first place.

In the deciding matches, Midland has a "her assignment" than Central for Capt. Laura Robbins' charges are playing Northern, a beat only 5 to 4 last Thursday, while Mrs. E. E. Brilliant's snick-wielders are playing Middlesex, which didn't come through with a victory until the ninth round, during which it stopped Southern, in a battle for the cellar championship, 7 to 2.

Central District is the defending champion and is an odds-on favorite to beat Middlesex today at the Belmont Country Club.

Interest in the final round of the W. G. A. district championship is centered on the Midland-Northern match at Brae Burn.

In the event that Northern comes through with a victory and Central takes Middlesex into camp, the title will be awarded to Mrs. Brilliant's team but, if Midland beats Northern and Central comes up to predictions, a play off will be necessary to decide the championship.

The three leading district teams are at war strength today.

Realizing that five Midland players are members of Brae Burn, Mrs. A. A. Kimball, captain of the Northern team, in all probability will revamp her line up.

At Belmont, the feature match will be that between Mrs. E. H. Baker, Jr., six times winner of the state title, and Mrs. Warren Beard, the exchampion.

At Brae Burn, Deborah Verry, the current state title, and Grace English, will draw the gallery.

Yale Last Hurdle For Harvard Crew

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—First Rutgers and Massachusetts Tech; then Syracuse, Princeton and Tech again; then Cornell, with Syracuse and Tech trailing once more, and finally Navy and Pennsylvania—next week Columbia. That's the story of Harvard's unbeaten progress to the eastern "sprint" rowing championship of 1938.

With the single exception of Yale, its ancient rival which it meets over the four-mile route at New Haven, Ct., June 24, the Crimson varsity has vanquished every rival of major importance in the East. It clinched its title claim last Saturday by outpulling the previously unbeaten Navy eight on the Severn at Annapolis. In four races it has added the Rome Memorial Trophy, the Compton Cup and the Adams Cup to the collection of hardware in the Harvard trophy case. What more could you ask—except a victory over Yale?

Although it still has a brush with Columbia's weak boat on the Harlem next Saturday, Harvard's position is secure. The Crimson eight, stroked by Spike Chase, pulled into the lead over Navy in the second half-mile of Saturday's race and finished with a length to spare in the time of 9:25.5. Penn was far behind all the way.

RECORD-BREAKERS
Yale, with a decisive victory over Cornell in record-breaking time, might dispute Harvard's championship claims, but the Ells most likely will concede that part and try to prove themselves at New London. They had only two short races and Cornell gave them their only real opposition.

The Blues, however, rowed the two-mile course on Lake Cayuga Saturday morning in 10:23.4, nearly nine seconds faster than the previous course record.

Outside of the promise of a keen race at New London, the main result of Saturday's doings was to establish Cornell on a par with Navy as the East's best bet against Washington and California in the four-mile intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie June 27.

Zamperini Anxious To Make Amends

LOS ANGELES, May 23 (AP)—Louis Zamperini, distance star, talked earnestly today about earning his way back on the great University of Southern California track team from which he was fired for "failure to co-operate."

"That," he said, "is my determination to do, even though I can't run any more this year. I made a mistake, but I don't believe it was the kind that will prevent me from earning my way back on the Trojan track team."

Seventeen 'Can Horses At Suffolk

Seventeen eligibles for the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap, mile and an eighth classic to be run at Suffolk Downs, June 29, are already on the grounds at the East Boston track.

Foremost of the eligibles for the Blue Ribbon classic of the summer turf season already here are the nominees of Mrs. Emil Denemark, Chicago sportswoman. They include Unweary, War Minstrel, Melodist, Finance and Corinto.

War Minstrel, four-year-old Royal Minstrel gelding, is a favorite with New Englanders after his victory in the rich Yankee Handicap at Suffolk in 1937, while Melodist is remembered as the winner of historic Wood Memorial Stakes at Jamaica last year.

H. Bedwell, veteran conditioner of the extensive racing string of A. C. Compton, Long Beach, Cal., resident, is here with Cincinnati and Gerald, two eligibles of note. From New Orleans have come the eligibles of Mrs. F. S. Harris. They are Wise Player and Singers Frolic.

Texas is represented by Panther Creek of the H. & H. Stock Farm, and Trouper, trained by O. L. Foster.

Deliberator, fast-stepping son of Walt Conzeller-Aurora, is training over the Suffolk Downs strip for the Massachusetts Handicap. The Everglades Stable nominee, a recent winner at Belmont Park, is impressing the clocking fraternity at this point.

Two invaders from South America, prominent nominees for the $20,000 added event, Pelagosa and Taxi Girl, are here in care of Trainer J. L. Roberts.

Walter Carter's Clodion, R. F. Lister's Old Comrade and Cedar Farms' Come On 24 round out the group of eligibles for the Massachusetts Handicap now on the bat-telfoot.

Police Save

Coast Umpires

LOS ANGELES, May 23 (INS)—Police riot squads were called to save two umpires from angry baseball fans at Wrigley Field after the arbiters forfeited the Coast League game between Hollywood and Sacramento to the latter in the third inning yesterday.

Hollywood had refused to stop arguing over a decision and resume play. For 30 minutes afterwards the fans rioted outside the umpires' quarters.

When police squads finally escorted Umpires C. G. Falls and Henry Fanning through the mob to an awaiting automobile to be whisked away a barrage of pop bottles, beer cans, seat cushions and anything movable was laid down by the aroused fans.

Jacqueline M. In Second

By DAVE WILSON

(Selections for fast track)

BEST BET—LANDLUBBER—

Landlubber, an up-and-coming gelding from the W. C. Johnson stable, is singled out as the most attractive hazard on the Suffolk Downs card tomorrow.

Second to Upsala in most recent race, Landlubber needs only to run back to that splendid endeavor to head less capable rivals opposing him in the mile of the Cliff House Purse, sixth and featured number.

FIRST RACE

Elysee, Nellie Mc, Nebraska City, Elysee, fourth to Irene's Bob in most recent race easily earns the call over a poor lot of $1000 placers listed for the day's opener. NELLIE MC, a distant second to Owalley the other day, shapes up slightly better than improved NEBRASKA CITY.

SECOND RACE

Jacqueline M. Feedman, Devil's Mate. JACQUELINE M. forced a tardy early pace in the race won recently by Star Flower, and then hung on with rare courage to be beaten only a nose by FEEDMAN for the place award. DEVIL'S MATE tore to the outside fence while leading in the same race, and may have been best.

THIRD RACE

Pradis, Transday, Myrna Lee. PRADIS was good enough to place in Ipswich in one of his two outings the past winter at Hialeah Park. TRANSDAY, third to Iskie and good odds in his only start, shapes up next best in what appears to be strictly a two-horse race. MYRNA LEE, a first-time starter, is credited with a five-eighths trial in 1:01.25 from the barrier.

FOURTH RACE

Bartering Kate, Yule Star, Ladfield. BARTERING KATE encountered no end of interference when recently noted out by YULE STAR. The latter had eight shift of five pounds against his chances. Ladfield figures well on top performance.

FIFTH RACE

Superwick, Shangay Lily, Blue Marvel. SUPERWICK appeared to be leading when recently beaten a nose by Pokeaway. If kept at his task, he should make amends at the expense of more capable rivals here. SHANGAY LILY, the highly-touted South American mare, displayed some promise in her recent outing. BLUE MARVEL should share in the spoils.

SIXTH RACE

Landlubber, Upspoon, Sage Leaf. LANDLUBBER will have UPSPOON to drub. The latter finished second to Dorothy Rock in his last start. SAGE LEAF is a possibility on his last race.

SEVENTH RACE

Herondas closed like a house after the other day to win going away in a sprint race. POPEYE DECK had little chance with the start in his last race. MAKEIT is a possibility.

EIGHTH RACE

Long Wave, Miss Hollywood, Pickout. LONG WAVE, winner of two straight sprint races, is running over a familiar route and needs only a smooth ride to insure brackets. MISS HOLLYWOOD figures close up. PICKOUT is dropping down.

Revere Blue Ribbon Grand Jury Fades

Halt Probe, Full Panel Ordered

The "blue ribbon" grand jury probe into Revere racket conditions was forced into postponement today until 10 a. m. Thursday when it was found that too few of the blue ribboners were available.

Uniformed state troopers and plainclothes state detectives had been placed on guard in Pemberton square courthouse when the postponement came.

Of the 23 men picked for the "blue ribbon" jury, one was discovered to be dead, another had moved to New Jersey 11 years ago, the whereabouts of a third is unknown, six were excused permanently because of illness and other reasons and it was necessary to excuse two more until Thursday.

U. S. Amateur Champion Johnny Goodman, of Omaha; Ray Billowa of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Charlie (Chuck) Kocis, of Detroit; Marvin (Bud) Ward, of Olympia, Wash., all came through to victory.

The triumphs for Goodman and Billowa assured them meeting in the second round tomorrow.

Three Americans who were eliminated were Bobby Dunkelberger of High Point, N. C.; Charles S. Munson, Jr., of Fairfield, Ct., and Yale

University, and Arthur V. Rogers, Jr., of Winchester, who lost to H. N. M. Fogg, 3 and 2.

College Games Tax Upheld

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court broadened the field of federal taxation today by holding the federal government can impose levies on athletic contests at state universities and on the salaries of employees of the New York Port Authority.

Justice Roberts delivered the 6 to 2 decision sustaining a federal admission tax on tickets to intercollegiate football games at the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech.

Justice Stone delivered a 5 to 2 opinion holding that the Federal Government could collect an income tax on port authority officials. The authority was formed by an interstate compact to operate tunnels and bridges between New York and New Jersey.

The port authority litigation had caused 25 states to file a brief with the court asking protection from "federal usurpation" and "the burden of federal taxation."

Budget, 'Gas' To Hurley

After the Hurley administration forced in the Senate had failed to fight for reconsideration of legislation distributing $5,000,000 in gasoline taxes to cities and towns, the budget bill was passed today by a voice vote.

The $5,000,000 gasoline tax fund distribution bill and the general appropriation bill, disposing of more than $71,715,000, now await Governor Hurley's signature or veto.
